The Closing Date is August 27, 1991

ALL COINS AND ANTIQUITIES
GUARANTEED GENUINE

WE STILL CHARGE
NO BUYERS FEES

VISA MASTERCARD AMERICAN EXPRESS

Harlan J. Berk, Ltd. has presented an innovation in antiquities and numismatics for some time now. The system is simple. When you want an antiquity or coin in the sale, just bid the estimated price by phone or mail. We will send you the antiquity or coin immediately. No waiting for the closing of the sale. Any and all antiquities or coins not sold before the closing date will be sent to the highest bidder on August 27, 1991.

EXAMPLE—You bid estimate on an item valued at $100.00 and if your bid is the 1st to reach us, you will receive the item immediately. If on the other hand, you bid $75.00 on the same item and are still the high bidder at the end of the sale, the item will be mailed to you on the closing date, August 27, 1991.

If you are ever in the area, stop in and see us! Of course, it's best to call first.

GOLD

1. LYDIA CROESUS; 565-546 BC, Heavy Gold Stater; 10.76g. This is the first Mint State Heavy AV Stater of Croesus I have ever seen. When I was collecting the series, which I finally published in the Celator, I never found a Mint State Heavy Gold Stater. The heavies come up at a 40:1 ratio to the light gold staters. Mint State 20000
2. ACHAEMENID; 450-333 BC, Daric, 8.33g. Mint State 1550
3. SICILY, SYRACUSE, AGATHOKLES; 317-289 BC, Drachm, 4.3g. Exquisite artistic style, nearly perfect condition, flawless centering. Mint State 7000
4. MACEDONIA, ALEXANDER III THE GREAT; 336-323 BC, Gold Stater, 8.5g. Probably issued under Antigonos Gonatas to pay for the services of a single mercenary for the duration of the war. Good EF 2750
5. BYZANTIUM; LYSIMACHUS TYPE; 2nd Century BC, Gold Stater, 8.3g; Seaby-1590. Nice portrait of Alexander the Great. Well centered. Near Mint State 6000
6. PANTIKAPAION, IN THE CRIMEA; 320 BC, Gold Stater, 8.53g, Scythian style; BM-1921.
Quote from G. K. Jenkins "Ancient Greek Coins", New York, 1972, pages 120 and 125:

The Black Sea had been an important area of Greek colonization by Milesians and others, and numerous Greek cities were ranged around shores. The importance of the agriculture of this region to the Greeks of the Aegean has been mentioned above; but there was also gold - so prominent in the rich burial-treasures of the local Scythian rulers - and this was extracted perhaps from as far away as the Urals, anyway from a region remote enough for Herodotes to repeat that the Black Sea gold was purloined from the griffins by the one-eyed Arimaspeans. On the gold coins of the city of Pantikapaion in the Crimea we see the griffin itself with its horned lion's head, and it stands on a great ear of corn, as if to allude to both the great sources of wealth of this region. But it is the obverse of the coins which are the truly impressive feature; the head of Pan, used as the punning device for the city's name, as it appears on staters of about 350 BC, is of the purest Greek style, with pointed ears, snub nose and unkept hair. One of these heads is in profile, the other in a semi-facing view excellently conceived. These staters were first minted on a standard somewhat heavier than the Attic but later the normal Attic weight came in. We must note too the remarkable way in which a Scythian artist takes over the Greek design, even adding to the head of a wreath of vine leaves, but adapting the facial forms to the stylization characteristic of the splendid gold objects of Scythian art - a fruitful mixture of styles which is brilliant in semi-barbaric way. The earlier staters of Pantikapaion were conspicuous in the hoard found at Prinkipo on the Sea of Marmara, along with gold coins of Philip and of Lampsakos and the ubiquitous electrum of Kyzikos, an eloquent testimony to the great trade routes of the Black Sea area.

The only other coin we can find on the 8.53g weight standard is the specimen in the BMC. We believe our specimen came from the same necklace as the BMC one. It has the same minor scratches and the same triangular marks from mounting. Our coin came to us from a family that immigrated from the Crimea several generations ago and brought this coin with them at that time. To this point we know only of 2 specimens though it is likely that there are a few more.

| 653. The following group of gold ducats represent 20 different dies of what was once considered a very scarce coin. Struck on the Island of Chios to imitate Venetian ducats they, among other coins struck in various places, played the key role in forming an international monetary unit during crusades. So few of them were known until recently that in his 1965 edition Friedberg valued them at $500 while common sovereign was valued at $25 and US $20 gold piece was $65. Today the sovereign is $100 and double eagle is $450, yet we have an opportunity to offer these rare coins at only $250. They are part of the hoard recently found and we believe that as soon as the market absorbs them, the value will inevitably go back to what it once was. All 20 different varieties if purchased at once may start a very interesting collection or a single piece could be perfect representative of one of the most interesting political and economical episodes of human history. Her mouth is slightly open with full defined lips and a hint of a smile. With her hair drawn back and her full face she is quite beautiful. Done in 1/5 scale. Height 5", width 4 1/2". Unmounted 2500
709. KING MIDAS, in white marble. 2nd-3rd Century AD.
This is a rare rendering of the famous king of Phrygia. In Greek Mythology by the fifth century BC, Midas was the judge of a musical contest between the Gods Apollo and Pan. Midas decided in favour of Pan and his flute over Apollo. Apollo sought revenge out of anger that a satyr had been judged better than he. Apollo declared that Midas must have the ears of an ass. In order to hide his ears, Midas wore a Phrygian cap, and the only one who knew of them was his barber. This bust of Midas shows the pronounced ears and the cap set between them. There are traces of red paint remaining on his face and cloak. A solemn expression is on his face as he gazes slightly downward. A truly beautiful example of the "Man who could turn things to gold"! ..Set upon a satin-black stand. Height 13", width 8" without stand 15000
710. GREEK MARBLE FRIEZE; 5th Century BC; From Cyzicus. Upper border consists of an egg-and-dart pattern with the fore-part of a lion leaping below. The lion is about to pounce with his mouth open. Most likely taken from the facade of a building. Height 18", width 14 1/2" 5000
711. ROMAN MARBLE RECESSED RELIEF OF A CHERUB FLYING TO PLUCK A GRAPE; 2nd-3rd Century AD. Work comprised of the upper section in grape vines and leaves with two bunches hanging down. Between the bunches flies a cherub in an upturned swoop to grasp a grape. The cherub is 3/4 complete, missing one wing, one arm, and one and a half legs. The illusion of flight is given off of this piece. Probably from a section of a sarcophagus. Height 10", length 18", and 5" thick 4500
